INVESTMENT RISKS

Investment in the Fund is subject to investment risks, including, without limitation, market risk, management style risk, risks related to "fund of funds" structure, sector risk, fixed income risk, tracking risk, risks related to ETF net asset value and market price, foreign securities risk, risks related to portfolio turnover and small capitalization companies risk. Since the Fund is a "fund of funds," an investor will indirectly bear fees and expenses charged by the underlying ETFs and investment companies in which the Fund invests in addition to the Fund's direct fees and expenses. More information about these risks and other risks can be found in the Fund's prospectus.

Performance data quoted represent past performance. The performance data quoted above represents past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance data may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. For performance data current through the most recent month end, visit www.stadionfunds.com. The performance data with sales load reflects the 5.75% maximum sales charge (load) imposed on purchases (as a % of offering price). Return figures include changes in principal value and assume reinvestment of all dividends and capital gain distributions. For periods of less than 1 year, return figures are not annualized and represent cumulative total return.

Beta is a measure of the volatility—or systematic risk—of a security or portfolio compared to the market as a whole. The S&P 500 Index is the Standard & Poor's Composite Index of 500 stocks and is a widely recognized, unmanaged index of common stock prices. The standard deviation is a statistic that measures the dispersion of a dataset relative to its mean and is calculated as the square root of the variance. The Sharpe ratio uses standard deviation to measure a fund's risk-adjusted returns.

The index shown is defined as follows. The Morningstar Target Risk Index family is designed to meet the needs of investors who would like to maintain a target level of equity exposure through a portfolio diversified across equities, bonds and inflation-hedged instruments. The Morningstar Moderately Aggressive Target Risk Index seeks approximately 80% global equity exposure. The S&P 500 Index is the Standard & Poor's Composite Index of 500 stocks and is a widely recognized, unmanaged index of common stock prices. One cannot invest directly in an index. All Benchmarks composite data supplied by third party vendors, assumes re-investment of all dividends. © 2020 Morningstar, Inc. All rights reserved. For any such purchases where a finder's fee is paid by the Advisor a contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) will be charged at the time of redemption if the shares are redeemed within 12 months of the purchase date. The CDSC will be based on the original purchase cost or the current market value of the shares being sold, whichever is less. A 1.00% CDSC will be assessed on class C shares purchased on or after October 1, 2012 and redeemed within 12 months of purchase. ALPS Distributors, Inc. is the distributor for the Stadion Funds.
