ETF Risk

There are additional costs and potential risks associated with investing in domestic and international exchange-traded funds (ETFs). Investments in equities, including ETFs, are subject to market risks, sector risks, tracking risks, ETF net asset value and market price risks. Additionally, investors will indirectly bear fees and expenses charged by the underlying ETFs and investment companies in which a Stadion portfolio invests. International investing involves certain risks not usually associated with domestic investing, including currency fluctuation, economic and political volatility, foreign taxation and differences in financial standards.

An investor should consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of the Stadion Funds carefully before investing. Yield is the annual return on an investment, expressed as a percentage of the price. Market Capitalization is the total market value of a company, as calculated by multiplying the company's outstanding shares by the current share price. Standard Deviation measures the average deviation of a return series from its mean, and is often used as a measure of risk. Beta is a measure of systematic risk, or the sensitivity of a manager to movements in the benchmark. A beta of 1 implies that you can expect movement of a manager's return series to match that of the benchmark used to measure beta. The Sharpe ratio measures the excess return per unit of deviation, or risk. Maximum Drawdown measures the largest percentage decline from a peak to a trough. Correlation is a measure of how investments move in relation to one another. A correlation of 1 means the two asset classes move exactly in line with each other, while a correlation of -1 means they move in the exact opposite direction. Collar: A protective option strategy created by purchasing an out of the money put option while simultaneously writing an out of the money call option. The index shown is defined as follows. The HFRX Absolute Return Index is designed to be representative of the overall composition of the hedge fund universe. It is comprised of all eligible hedge fund strategies; including but not limited to convertible arbitrage, distressed securities, equity hedge, equity market neutral, event driven, macro, merger arbitrage, and relative value arbitrage. As a component of the optimization process, the index selects constituents which characteristically exhibit lower volatilities and lower correlations to standard directional benchmarks of equity market and hedge fund industry performance. The S&P 500 Index is the Standard & Poor's Composite Index of 500 stocks and is a widely recognized, unmanaged index of common stock prices. Bloomberg Barclays US Aggregate Bond Index is an unmanaged index of prices of U.S. dollar-denominated investment-grade fixed income securities with remaining maturities of one year and longer. All Benchmarks composite data supplied by third party vendors, assumes re-investment of all dividends. You cannot invest directly in the Index. The Morningstar Multialternative Category is a benchmark created and published by Morningstar and defines Alternative as "Alternative funds may take short positions or invest in currencies, derivatives, or other instruments." Stadion is the source for all of the graphs in this Overview. Prior to 3/28/14, the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund was named the Stadion Trilogy Fund. Stadion and the Stadion S are a registered service mark of Stadion Money Management, LLC. ¹BarUS Agg stands for Bloomberg Barclays US Aggregate Bond Index .

The Morningstar Rating for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange traded funds and open ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10 year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10 year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10 year overall rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10 year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. Stadion Trilogy Alternative Income Fund was rated against the following numbers of Multi-alternative funds over the following time periods: 252 funds in the last three years and 191 funds in the last five years. With respect to these Multialternative funds, the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund received a Morningstar Rating of 3 stars for the three-year period and 4 stars for the five-year period. 4 star overall rating out of 252 Multi-alternative funds as of 06/30/2020. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Morningstar Rating is for the I share class only; other classes may have different performance characteristics.

There is no guarantee that this investment strategy will succeed, the strategy is not an indicator of future performance and investment results may vary. The investment strategy presented is not appropriate for every investor and individual clients should review with their financial advisors the terms and conditions and risk involved with specific products or services. Stadion's portfolios may underperform during bull markets. Derivative instruments can be volatile and the potential loss to the Fund may exceed the Fund's initial investment. Derivative instruments may be difficult to value and may be subject to wide swings in valuations caused by changes in the value of the underlying instrument. The use of these instruments requires special skills and knowledge of investment techniques that are different than those normally required for purchasing and selling securities. The Fund could also experience losses if it is unable to close out a position because the market for an instrument or position is or becomes illiquid. Collared Equity: At times it may be impossible to simultaneously execute transactions in all of the options involved; there is a possibility of a loss on both sides of a combination transaction; if one side of a transaction is exercised or closed out, the remaining side of the transaction may have increased risk exposure; multi-leg strategies are subject to multiple commissions, fees and charges. Income: Writing covered calls for potential income limits upside potential of underlying securities; writing puts may force the investor to purchase the underlying security during a period of unfavorable price declines. Performance data quotes represents past performance. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Investments are subject to risk, and any of Stadion's investment strategies may lose money. Stadion's actively managed portfolios may underperform in bull markets. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance data may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. To review our most recent monthly performance, please visit www.stadionfunds.com.

The Gross and Net Expense Ratios listed above include Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses, which are the fees and expenses incurred indirectly by the Fund as a result of its anticipated investments during the upcoming fiscal year in investment companies and other pooled investment vehicles. For the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund, Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses were estimated to be 0.08% of the Fund's average daily net assets for its most recent fiscal year of operations. The Current Expense Ratio is the expense ratio as a percentage of the Fund's average daily net assets as of the date listed above. The Current Expense Ratio may fluctuate based upon a number of factors, including changes in the Fund's net assets. The Current Expense Ratio does not include Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses. For any such purchases where a finder's fee is paid by the Advisor a contingent deferred sales charge (CDSC) will be charged at the time of redemption if the shares are redeemed within 12 months of the purchase date. The CDSC will be based on the original purchase cost or the current market value of the shares being sold, whichever is less. A 1.00% CDSC will be assessed on class C shares purchased on or after October 1, 2012 and redeemed within 12 months of purchase.
